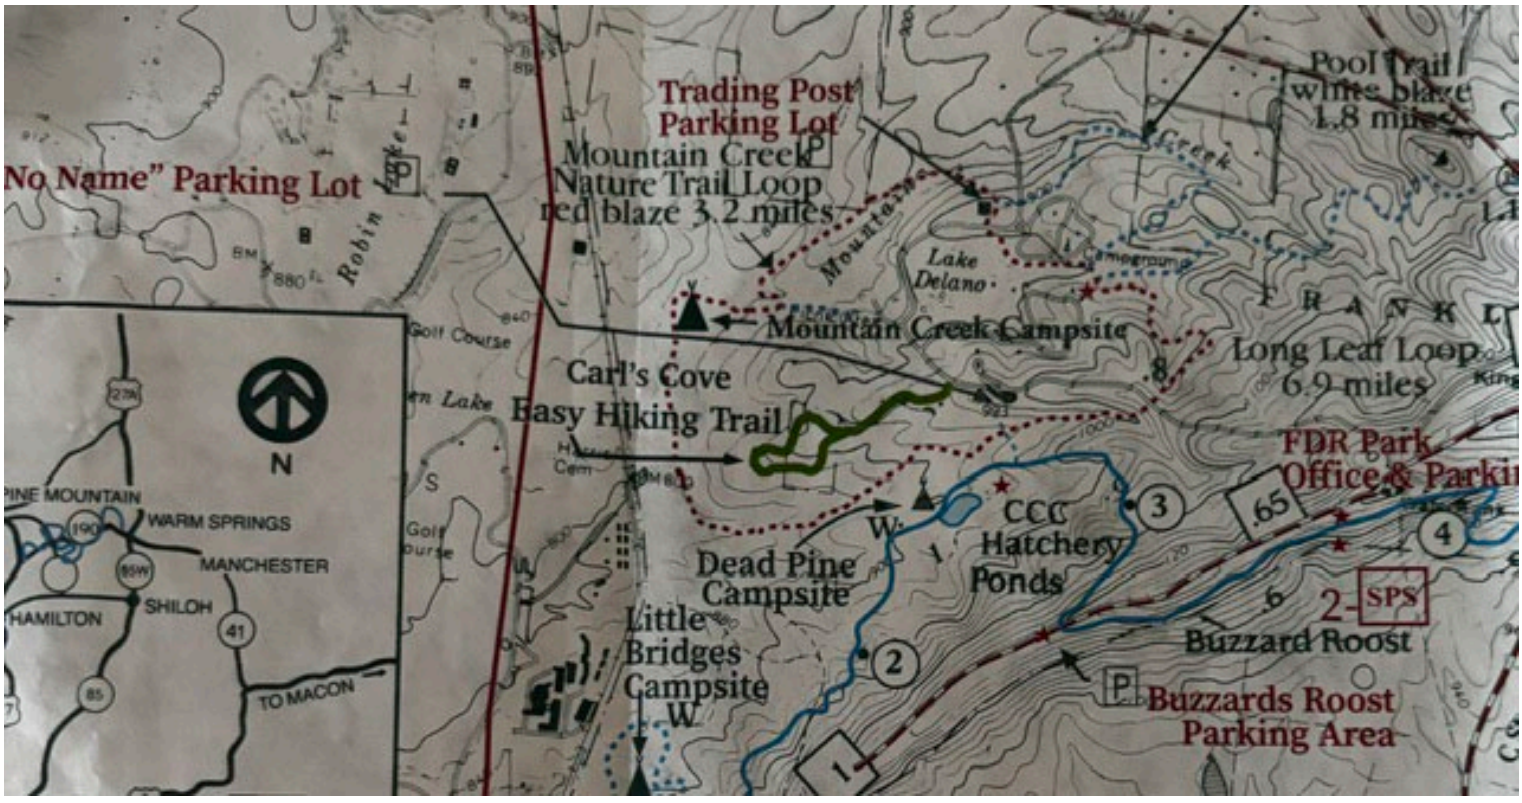
Dead Pine Campsite revised 6/6/2026

This is the first site on the main PMT starting from the west end. The site is located east past Mile 2, about 4/10 of a mile. You can also hike to the campsite from "No Name Parking Lot" which is only about a one-half mile hike. From "No Name Parking Lot" there is a sign directing you to the Pine Mountain Trail via a dirt road off/away from the parking lot. After hiking this road a short ways you will pass the red blazed Mountain Creek Trail (which crosses the road) and you continue on uphill until you see the wooden Pine Mountain Trail directional signs. Turn right (west) there onto the blue blazed PMT. You will pass over the dam of the large CCC Hatchery Pond and continue on until you see the campsite signs on your right. It is 265 feet from there to main campsite sign in photo below left. The water source is from a spring via a trail from the main campsite area. The trail to the spring is 370'. There is only one marked campsite area with a metal fire ring and bench. DO NOT move or place any rocks in or around the metal ring, nor move it. There is room for a small group to use the campsite (see Site Description chart for how many allowed at this camp.) As with other campsites, camp near/within 50' of the established fire ring. As there are a few trees near the fire ring, ok for hammock use with straps only.

Bench was added in May of 2026

The 370’ trail to water is clearly blazed in white

NOTE: Beyond the fire ring to the east is a sign telling DO NOT CAMP beyond this sign. As noted, set up tents/tarps and hammocks within 50’ of the metal fire ring. NOT in the area beyond the red sign.


The area shown in old photo below left with tent was really compacted and bare. It has been closed off and allowing for restoration (fire ring gone and covered with leaves) and noted with NO FIRES-NO CAMPING signs as of 2-9-2021.
