The main fire ring (only one now) is now uphill away from the camp to the south (left). Most people hike in to this site area west from the WJSP-TV tower parking lot trailhead (about 2.7 miles.) The hike in to Old Sawmill is one of the most scenic, with lots of hiking over water crossings and hills, past cliffs and waterfalls including Cascade Falls. An alternate route is hiking in from the west, and it is about 2.3 miles east of Rocky Point Parking Lot trailhead. The site has the best water source along the trails, this, being a good sized stream alongside the trail on the edge of the camp. The name Old Sawmill, comes from fact there was sawmill located in the woods nearby the campsite about 80+ years ago.

The best access point to the stream is noted with a sign, just 75 feet east past the entrance to the camp.
Look for this sign on the left (south) as go into camp. Fire Ring A is just uphill from this sign to the right.
Right - west of the entrance to Old Sawmill Campsite is FERNEY the BIG pine tree, 14.5’ around at 4’ off the ground. Is said to be about 250 years old.
